"CHANGE"

We have just been subject to another experience of "change" in our Bishopric organization. As long as we live, we will be subject to "change" in our programs and procedures of life.

Brother Watts has given a great service to the Butler Third Ward these past two and a half years. We have all benefited from his firm decisions and administrative ability to conduct the assigned areas of responsibility, down to his expressions of love as he would gently place a Primary child from the nursery on his knee and let them know they are important in the eyes of their Heavenly Father as well as being the "General's" close friend. He and Donna will give great service to the new assignment they have been given in Australia. May we as a ward support them and ourselves in new assignments as we go through the "change" in following and supporting new positions and areas of responsibility.

Love,

Bishop Mackintosh

Mission News

Sweden Stockholm

John has had an interesting month this past month. We always thought his auburn hair was quite attractive, but because of it, he and his companion are being accused of being "punk rockers." Sweden has quite a few of these free thinkers, but John doesn't appreciate having the finger pointed at him as being one.

John loves missionary work. He told us this week of one of his investigators who has read the Book of Mormon and Doctrine & Covenants.

She realizes the presence of the Spirit while being taught, and she can tell that what they teach her is true by from the look in their eyes. John is praying for a strong spirit to be present the next time they teach the strange feeling she gets and her so her own conviction will be strong enough to change her life around to be baptized.

John sends his love to the ward!

us to talk with Dyke again. He sounds the same,

With Mother's Day this past month it allowed and yet somewhat different. He especially wanted us to know of his appreciation of being where he is. He reports a mission is the right place for him to be at this time. He has been blessed with the experience of involvment with elderly people. There is an 85-year-old sister who lives across the road from the missionaries. Her name is Sister Weaver. She watches out for the missionaries and tells them stories over and over again. Dyke said she is sweet and they all love her. As a mother, I feel we are all thankful to the many Sister Zone conferences are a real "high" for Dyke. He relies on them to provide spiritual strength to the missionaries in his zone.

Weavers who love our sons.

As the weather gets warmer, he thinks of being home to go water skiing, but it isn't near as hard this year as it was his first summer away. "Hang tuff, Dyke--you're makin' it!"

Todd is enjoying his mission more now that he is really out doing the work. He has a good companion, and they spend a lot of time tracting. Todd has already worn out his first pair of shoes. They are getting results, though.

They have recently baptized a 61-year-old lady as well as a family of five. Todd reports that there are a lot of people in his area, but the missionaries have found that the blacks are much more receptive to the gospel message than are the whites.

Maybe we'll just have cold cereal instead.

It didn't take long for Todd to really appreciate his own home and the "good of U.S.A." He says there are a lot of "punk rockers" in the area where he is serving; the food is very expensive; and he doesn't really like his own cooking.

Jay is doing really well, and really enjoys his mission. He was a bit disappointed when he got the word that the mission would be cut short, but also realized that it came from someone who sits at an advantage point and can see things to which we are ignorant right now. He wonders if the Lord will! come in much the same way, and so many people will be saying, "But wait, I'm not ready yet!" He and his companion were able to baptize a family this last month, and what a thrill it was. Their only problem now is that the building which they meet in won't hold any more people, so they are looking to find a larger place.

Jay also mentioned that the best things are the hardest to reach, and he wonders if that's why cookie jars are always in high places. The best rewards are always on top.

Canada Calgary

Franklin has been transferred to the Mission Scotland Home in Calgary and given the assignment of the financial secretary over the fleet of automobiles the missionaries use. Franklin is not the first of the Clawson boys to be given this same type of assignment, so we must have done a good job of teaching them to keep track of their pennies when they were youngsters!

We received three letters from Calgary in one week -- one from Franklin, one from the Mission President, and one from the Mission President's wife telling us what a great missionary we've sent them. It really means a lot to the folks at home when the "mission parents" take the time to write and let us know how our sons are doing.

Scott is still laboring in the Glasgow area and having continued success with the help of a new companion from Idaho. Each companion is special to Scott. His ability to enjoy and get along so well with people has been a big part of his success.

We received a letter from Scott which gave us a chuckle. While at the LTM, he had some stationary made with his smiling picture on it. I had written a comment a while back that must have irritated Scott a bit -- he wrote a response to it and said, "Notice I was smiling the whole time I was writing this."

He has matured and we love him!

Kyle has been transferred to Tulsa now. President Brian says this will be Kyle's last area. He will serve there until the end of his mission.

We have had the opportunity to have four young missionaries come to visit us who served in Kyle's area. It was special to visit with these young people and hear about their feelings for the area and for Kyle.

Kyle reports this is the most important thing he's done in his life, and he's so glad he was called to serve.

Relief Society

The presidencies of the three women's organizations are planning a special evening to honor all sisters serving in the Primary, Young Womens, and Relief Society organizations. PLEASE CIRCLE THE DATE -- JUNE 16th at 7:00 PM AND PLAN TO BE WITH US. More information will be coming soon. This is a special evening you won't want to miss.

Don't forget Homemaking Night on June 9th.
Brother Paxman will give the final First Aid lesson. These lessons have been very beneficial. Also, our mini-classes are so informative and fun. A light supper will be served. Homemaking Night is a special time for socializing as well as learning.
It is a vital part of our Relief Society Program.

LouJean Middleton Relief Society President

Being an Ambassador of Love is calming, peaceful and healthy. In June, The Mormon Tabernacle Choir, Ambassadors of Christian Love, travel beyond the Tabernacle to express love to others. One of their stops will be in Norway where U.S. Ambassador Mark Austad says, "Many people don't think of Mormons as Christians."

Are we Christians? Do you feel Christian love for others? Do you find ways to express love to others beyond the walls of our chapel? Have you discovered the Joy of Christian Love? Go beyond yourself. Surprises are in store.

Young Women R

On Mother's Day the Young Women had a combined meeting, with a lesson on Homemaking. Homemaking is an important and sacred responsibility given to women by their Father in Heaven. A woman's role in her Heavenly Father's plan is to give the greatest priority to her home, her husband, and her family. This is her divine mission. Our talents and abilities will help us become better homemakers. The Mia-maids shared with us some of their talents by bringing an article, something they had made, that would make a home more beautiful.

We need to learn to appreciate our own mothers so that we may become better homemakers. Our mothers do so much for us, and someday our Young Women will be mothers doing for their own families.

Titus 2:4,5

That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children.

To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands...

The second-year Laurels prepared a lesson or presentation to all the combined girls classes on May 23rd. They shared with us their feelings on how the Personal Progress program has helped to strengthen them.

Joyce McKinney made the final cut of the drill team at Brighton High. Congratulations, Joyce!

A Friendship Supper will be held June 16th at 7:00 pm at the Stake Center, honoring women serving in all womens organizations.

PRIMARY

Spotlight shown upon Brenda

Fletcher and Ryan Beattie. WE enjoyed getting to know them better. We have such wonderful young people in our Primary and love them all very much!

Charlotte Glad was baptized and confirmed the first weekend in May. We are thankful she had accepted the gosple in her life and is willing to take upon her the covenants of baptism. Congrats Charlotte!!

Sister Florence Jacobsen has accepted the call to help the Merrie Miss A girls with their homemaking skills at her home during the weekdays. We really appreciate her helping us with our girls.

To unify and honor the women serving in the three womens' organizations in our ward, the presidencies of the Young Women, Relief Society, and Primary are planning a special night of sisterhood. The Eternal Friendship Supper will be in the Aaronic Priesthood Room in the Stake Center, June 16 at 7:00 p.m. Since many times it is difficult for us to go out more than one evening during a week, we will plan to have PREPARATION MEETING prior to the supper. It will be a condensed meeting with announcements and Jan Price's inservice lesson only. You will be well rewarded for this small half hour. Plan to attend at 6:30 June 16, in the Relief Society Room.

We want to thank the Primary Children for helping with the Mother's Day Program. It was very nice, as usual. Also, a special thanks to Sister Velma Glad, our choruster, for all the time she put into teaching the songs they sang.

South Africa Johannesburg

Cory has been very busy the last few weeks with Zone Conferences in the different areas. They are still tracting and teaching in the Soweto area. This is a native section of Johannesburg. Many of the homes are small huts without electricity, so they have to teach by candlelight.

Cory says winter is on the way and it is getting cold.

Also, everyone is really busy. There are a lot of missionaries going home and no new missionaries have been arriving because of visa problems.

Cory's letters are still full of joy and enthusiasm. He says the biggest problem is that there is so much left to do and time is growing short.

Congratulations and best wishes to the following who will be in the graduating class at Brighton High School this year:

Wayne Clayton
Lance Dean
Jacque Hansen
Dana Larisch
Jenny Lindquist
Brett Reich

Congratulations also to Kendra Barbour, who graduated from the Jordan Valley School.

Also, we are especially proud of Dana Larisch, who received a Leadership Award in school, as well as Lance Dean, who received awards in debate, art, and M.U.N. (Model United Nations).

We are proud of Drake Decker, who has been called to serve on the Seminary Council at Brighton High School this coming fall.

Texas Houston

Todd had no problem adjusting quickly to the atmosphere and routine of the Missionary Training Center in Provo where he was scheduled to spend the first three weeks of his mission learning the discussions and preparing in all ways to go out and teach the gospel to those good people in Texas who are seeking the truth.

Although his departure has been delayed a bit, he is trying to be patient, but still very anxious to get on down to Houston so he can get to

We'll look forward to hearing more from Todd in Texas next month.
