A few weeks ago Brother Barker taught a lesson in the Teacher's Quorum that had a great impact on me. The lesson was on forgiveness, and several ideas were given that I had never considered before.

The Lord has told us, "I, the Lord, will forgive whom I will forgive, but of you it is required to forgive all men." D&C 64:10

When we are wronged by another it is quite natural to come away with bad feelings toward that individual. Sometimes these feelings are so strong and so deep that they last a long time. In some cases for years and for others they last a lifetime. I am certain the Lord knows the destruction it causes when this feeling of unforgiveness remains with us. That is why with love and concern he gave us the commandment to forgive all.

Often we think we only need to forgive those who come to us and ask for forgiveness, but that is not the case. It is one thing to talk about forgiving all who trespass against us and quite another thing to actually do it. Could I really truly forgive those who tortured my family in a Nazi prison camp the way Cory Tembloom did? Could I forgive the drunken driver who killed my daughter and son-in-law like the family of a young West Jordan couple did?

Could I? Could I?.....Could You?

May the Lord bless each of us with the strength and faith to forgive all. May we each follow the example of Christ, our Savior, as he hung on the Cross when he stated, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do."

Australia Sydney

"We are really on a merry-go-round this month with zone conferences, stake conferences, district conferences and visits towards and fire-sides. When we hit that airplane seat on 2 April I'm going to sleep all the way to Los Angeles. It is thrilling to be coming home for special missionary meetings. I have to believe it will make our return in July rather ordinary."

Korea Seoul

Dean has been transferred again. He has the special opportunity to be in the new temple district. The Seoul Mission boundaries have just been changed to include the temple district which used to belong to the Seoul West Mission. His new companion also came from the Seoul West Mission.

He says they have just built their first Pizza Hut there. Last month they opened a Wendees. The month he arrived they opened a Kentucky Fried Chicken and already had a Burger King, Dunkin Donuts, and Winchells, but none are close to Dean.

He has requested some pectin to make jam out of the plentiful berries and other fruit. He said he finally broke down and paid the price for some peanut butter at an American food store.

Dean is feeling really good about the language and his letters are always happy and full of enthusiasm.

Philippines

"With the servicemen from Clark Air Field, Subic Bay Naval Base, and released missionaries attending the temple, we have been kept busy. This past week six new temple missionaries came to help us, so now we're hoping temple attendance will increase by about 200 patrons daily. Sometime in the future patron housing will be available for those traveling long distances. There is a small fund set aside to help pay the travel expense of those in need. For those living in the southern part of the Philippines, travel requires several months wages and up to two days time--a real sacrifice. Their blessings for coming to the temple are ample reward for their efforts. The early saints also made great sacrifices to build temples to gain these blessings. Those who didn't make a sacrifice are apt to take these sacred things too lightly and miss the benefits others gain.

"As you warned us about cockroaches, bed bugs, and other bugs, we were somewhat prepared for them. But we were just about carried off with them. Our legs and arms were bumpy from bug bites. The place has been sprayed six times which has reduced the onslaught, but every day we find some of the varmints and try to dispose of them. The lizards and frogs, our house pets help some.

"We have been able to make a few excursions out of Manila. When the temple closes in Aug. for a week we hope to go to Bagio where it is cooler--this 90° humid climate of the tropic is not to our liking. Fortunately, the temple is air conditioned and is usually in the 70-80° range.

"Our health has been good and we hope it will stay that way. The water we drink has either been boiled or specially treated. The fruit and vegetables are soaked in Clorox water and peeled or cooked. Some missionaries have gotten amoebic dysentery so bad that they have had to go to the hospital for a week or so. Those who have to go into the small communities don't have electricity or well water which is a big change in life style. There are 'brown-outs' when they cut off the electric power for 6-10 hours and water rationing where they turn off the water for 4-18 hours. David Clawson had his water cut off for three days."

Japan Osaka

Lance had a telephone conversation with John McGuire (31st Ward) who is a Japanese speaking tour guide for the Tsukuba Science Expo near Tokyo through the State Department.

Lance and Elder Chris Klein (from Washington State) baptized Sugimoto San, friend of the 17-year-old young man they baptized last. It was pretty quick, but he passed the baptism interview with flying colors. The Zone Leaders (according to Lance) thought that Lance was a little tough on the converts by giving them homework from the Book of Mormon after each lesson, but Lance says it brings results. Three others from other branches were baptized at the same time. A trio of Lance and two Sisters sang "Where Love Is" in Japanese at the baptism.

Lance went to a District/Zone Leaders Conference where the missionary reports showed Lance's district on top. Lance said, "We do dendo (tracting) with the members--not just think about it like other districts. Our dendo goals go higher every week. We also changed our English teaching class to a more local area--we dare to be different and now see more progress in the mission." He said the Mission President really complimented the Suminoe District. The district, of course, was elated. Lance said, "Something seems to be happening in our mission. It really seems like the last days and the work is taking one final thrust." President Blalock said, "We're on the crest of something big and it seems to be bursting out right now."

Missouri Independence

The past month has been a very busy time for Wayne and his companion. Wayne's zone received four new Elders from the mission home, bringing the Omaha Zone up to 22 full time Elders and 3 sets of older couple missionaries. Six of the full time Elders have been out less than one month, so along with their regular missionary work, Wayne and his companion have had to find housing for new missionaries, work with the new Elders, and have opened up a new area for the work near Norfolk, Nebraska (about 120 miles from Omaha).

On March first Wayne interviewed for baptism the first black man to ever be baptized in the Council Bluffs area. He said this was a choice experience. The family from Nigeria who were mentioned in last month's article were baptized into the Omaha First Ward which was a thrill for the missionaries also. Wayne tells us their Nigerian family have had them over for African food and he and his companion have fixed them pizza which everyone seemed to enjoy.

We only received a short note from Wayne this week for the missionaries in the Omaha Zone have been working an 80-hour week of teaching and finding new members, so there was no time for letter writing.

Wayne reports he is very happy. The work is difficult, but rewarding if the rules are followed and the necessary time is spent doing the Lord's work.

Uruguay Montevideo

Bret said the work is progressing, sometimes a little slowly, but they are making progress. Everyone seems very excited about the new ward they are building. The dedication is scheduled two days after he is going to be released to come home, but as he says, the most important thing is that the members will have a nice ward to attend.

Bret said in his last letter his new companion had a very challenging week. They had washed their baptism clothes and put them outside on the line to dry and someone stole his companion's clothes. That same week a tree got in his way while riding his bike (the tree came out okay) and a couple of days later a motorcycle got in his way. The bike is in sad shape, but the Elder is okay and still determined to survive.

His letters are always full of excitement and joy and thankfulness to have the opportunity to work with such great people.

Wisconsin Milwaukee

Raymond has been transferred to a city on the border of Wisconsin and Illinois--Beloit, WI. It seems as if they are having more success in finding people to teach there than they did in Milwaukee.

The church has come out with a special pamphlet just for the Wisconsin Mission. It is extremely eye-catching and has the testimonies of 12 very prominent and successful members of the church. Raymond says the pamphlet seems to be doing good.

Gregory sent a fabulous tape to our family. We really enjoyed hearing his voice and learning about all of his great experiences. He loves the area he's in and enjoys the other missionaries that share a small room with him. He says the room is so small they have to crawl into the two bunkbeds from the foot--there isn't room on the sides. The other missionaries joined in for some fun on the tape. From all the jokes and laughter it sounds like they don't spend every minute hard at work! In fact, they really harmonized while singing some of "Ye Elders of Israel."

Gregory mentioned they had one of the brethren from the church office give them a "pep talk" to get all the missionaries working even harder. He encouraged them to leave at least 3 Books of Mormon a day at homes. He and his companion tractated for over 35 hours and could only give out 3. So they are a little discouraged, but still trying hard.

In fact, he has worn out his shoes already. He went to a little Chinese shop to have them repaired. The man did a fabulous job, he said, but the heels are really too high. Greg won't take them back because he doesn't want to hurt the man's feelings. He says he just hopes they wear down a lot--soon.

He sends his "hellos" and best wishes to all.

✠ Ireland Dublin ✠

Another month is past and Ramona is now five months in Cork, Ireland. Last month she was sick with a terrible cold, but they still went to their appointments and Heavenly Father has blessed their work and efforts. Two people became members of the church. They have three children. It is exciting to see people touched by the Spirit and see what the gospel can do for them. Ramona and her companion are just so excited about their area and the people they are teaching.

She is thinking of the coming April Conference and will surely miss it. She asked us to tape it for her.

South Dakota Rapid City

Life has been quite hectic for Mark since his transfer and his new assignment as a Zone Leader. He has been learning his duties and doing a great deal of traveling, as well as planning a Zone Conference--and writing a newsletter for his Zone. There hasn't been as much time for tractating and teaching, but even so, Mark and his companion are teaching several people who seem very interested and they hope they will make the commitment to baptism soon.

It's getting warmer now and the snowdrifts are getting smaller, and Mark is becoming more aware of how flat North Dakota is. He says he's glad he can still claim Minnesota as his "home away from home" because the landscape is more interesting and varied. But, no matter where he has been he has found out that the people are "special" and he's making some very choice and lasting friendships.

He's also learned how dear those friends back home are--and he loves the letters and notes you send to him. He sends his love and thanks to everyone. Happy Easter Butler Third Ward--with love from Mark.

Relief Society

It is with mixed emotions that we approach spring with its beauties of nature that start budding and make us feel alive after a hard, cold winter. With all the beauty comes the work of cleaning and repairing the damages of the winter. It is a vicious cycle, but so rewarding. There is a lot of work that goes into our flower and vegetable gardens, but to be able to stop and smell one of our roses or eat produce from our gardens or bottle fruit from our well-groomed trees is reward enough, plus a great ego boost. Good luck to each of you in your efforts to help make our neighborhood one of the prettiest and most productive around.

Thanks to all that participated in making our Relief Society Birthday Dinner such a special evening. We are really grateful to Sisters Donna and Edna Bates and our choir, our professional dancers, Brother Rasmussen, Brother Paxman, and all who helped with invitations, decorating, food, dishes, etc. We have delightful people to work with, plus our good husbands and families.

It seems that as time moves on, things have a way of disappearing. We are missing some of our quilting frames and white cloth table cloths. As you are doing your spring cleaning, please keep a lookout for these things in case they got tucked away. Thanks.

Our Homemaking Night, April 3rd, will be a special evening under the direction of the American Cancer Society. It will be a most educational experience for each of us, so plan on joining with us at 7:00 P.M.

Young Women

In our volleyball games we are very proud to announce that our team took the award for sportsmanship.

On March 3rd the Young Women had special speakers who came and talked to us about fun dates and really gave us some good ideas. Some of us will have to wait to use them, though.

On St. Patrick's Day, the MIA had a fireside. The Miamids invited Paul Manwaring as a speaker. He gave us a very good example of endurance and challenge. The teachers provided some luscious goodies afterwards.

Everyone has been very busy working on the Road Show this month. We want to especially thank Judi Rowe for devoting endless hours in planning, preparation, and directing every aspect of our great production; as well as to many others who spent so much time in helping make it such a big success.

March birthdays: Kerri Redmond (4th), Marie Poulson (19th)

Sarah Weenig reporting

After planting seeds in many parts of the world and then putting roots down in Butler 3rd Ward territory, Pete and Joyce Skidmore are again establishing new friendships in other areas--wherever Pete's job requires him to be. They are now in Parachute, Colorado, where they are helping the people prepare for the opening of a new temple. Joyce says, "The devil is working hard on the Colorado Saints--anything to delay the opening of the Temple where he knows good works will be performed. The Lord is being very good to us, and we know we're where we should be." We wish them our best in this exciting venture.

Scouts

During the early part of March the older Scouts divided into two study groups--one worked with Sharon Cloward to complete the Safety merit badge, the other studied aspects of Personal Management with Dan Mackintosh and visited the Brighton Bank to learn of banking and the importance of credit with bank officer Steve Clegg.

On the evening of March 24th, a Court of Honor was held. Fourteen merit badges were presented to various boys. Benjie Larisch advanced to the rank of 2nd Class, and Chris Kartchner received his Life award. The regular Court was followed by an Eagle Court of Honor during which Brett Barker and Drew Glad received their awards as Eagle Scouts. The boys were charged to live their lives differently as Eagles, raising their standards, and dedicating themselves to serving others, particularly younger scouts. The boys presented their mothers with their Eagle pin and neckerchief, and the fathers received an Eagle tie tac.

The Scouts also busied themselves at painting and building sessions at the Price home under the direction of Dave Price, Assistant Scoutmaster. They built camp furniture, including a box for patrol cooking equipment, a camp table, a "T" for supporting fire water buckets, a tripod for supporting a wash basin and a chair for enjoying campfires. All of this equipment was designed, built, painted, and exhibited at the annual Scout-O-Rama at the Salt Palace on March 30. The boys took turns "manning the display" and explaining the items to families and friends of Scouting who attended the big event.

Cub Scouts

The Cub Scouts had an exciting evening on March 21st as they raced their Pinewood Derby cars. There were six boys with six nifty, sleek cars, and each set of two cars raced against each other at least two times so they could switch tracks the second time. When it came down to the two fastest cars, they had to race ten times before a winner was decided upon!

At the end of the races, Daren Beattie received the blue ribbon for having the sharpest and fastest car, Steven Allen won a red ribbon for the second fastest as well as a prize for having the most unusual car; Ryan Beattie won a yellow ribbon for third place in the race as well as a prize for the most colorful car; Nathan Cloward (the newest Cub) had the Most Streamlined car; Tim Ostler had the Best Designed car; and Scott Meldrum won the People's Choice award. Each of the boys was also given a beautiful display stand for their car, hand made by Harvey Hansen. Thanks, Harv! Thanks also to Bill Hawks, Cubmaster, for planning and preparing the fun evening; and to Mark Rasmussen for the yummy treats.

FILAMENTS OF LOVE

by Rosalyn Ostler

I jerked a green plant
from the soil
and left a gaping hole-- but the hair-roots that twisted fine and deep could not be unthreaded.
They broke and stayed.

Another growing life was wrenched
from earth,
left a yawning hollow.
But filaments of love
had reached so far and fine
and deep
they could not be dislodged.

And we have memories.

Getting Acquainted.....

John and Gay Bishoff have lived at 2867 Carole Drive for eleven years, and even though most of us know them quite well, it's always fun to find out something new about those we've been acquainted with for some time.

John was raised on a ranch about 20 miles south of Pocatello, Idaho (McCammon), and it was there that he learned the love of horses and to work hard putting up hay, milking the cows, and all that goes with a farm. He had three sisters and no brothers, so had a great share of the responsibility of the ranch himself.

John was a member of the McCammon High School Band and also of the football team. He did so well in football that he got a scholarship to be on the team at Snow College. After graduation from Snow, he went on to obtain a degree at Utah State, and then went on to get his C.P.A. When they were first married, John worked for Rogers Brothers Company in Idaho Falls, and for the past twenty years he has been working for Steiner Corporation (an international company whose main business is linen supply) where he is presently a corporate controller.

John still has a great love for horses and the out-of-doors. He has two horses on the property now that he enjoys taking care of. Both of them were born and raised right in his back yard.

At one time he had five there. He also really enjoys going fishing, hunting, and just being outside. He enjoys camping, too, but likes to camp where there aren't a lot of people coming and going. Gay says, "When we go camping, we really do get away from people."

Gay grew up in Ephriam, Utah, home of Snow College. Her high school was combined with the college, so she had the same teachers, etc. as the college students. Gay was in many musical shows that the high school and college had.

Gay was in several of the June dance festivals that were held in Salt Lake City, and really enjoyed those.

Her father passed away when she was 15, so she went to work in a corner drug store, (one that had a soda fountain) and it was there that she met John. He came into the store quite often. Gay also worked in Lee's Variety Store for some time, and also had a part-time job in a sewing factory, making the button noles. In between working and playing around, she went to Snow College, only getting one year out of two, but she had fun. At the present, Gay works in the Career Center at Brighton High School as well as a few hours each week at the Cottonwood Spa.

Like John, Gay also enjoys going camping, but prefers areas that are equipped with the modern conveniences. She also likes to bowl and has been on a bowling league for the past 18 years. She does lots of sewing as well as crocheting.

The Bishoffs have four children: Ken (26) lives in Blanding, works for First Security Bank, and has two sweet little boys with a third baby on the way; Gary (24) lives in Salt Lake City, is studying pharmacy at the U of U, and has a special little boy; Jay (23) is living at home while attending the U of U and is planning on applying for medical school this fall; and last but not least is their lovely daughter, Julie (17), who is a Jr. at Brighton and is a diver for the Brighton High team. "We really enjoy our children, and Julie and Jay are both really fun to still have at home." Jay is the executive secretary in the Young Adult 36th Ward, and Julie is serving as the Laurel's President in our own ward. The three boys all represented Butler 3rd Ward on missions: Ken in Indiana, Gary in Brasil, and Jay in France.

John and Gay have each served in various positions in the church, demonstrating their strong testimonies by quietly doing their part to help build the Lord's kingdom in this part of the world. John currently is a High Council member of our stake and Gay is serving as the Young Women's Sports Director in the Ward.

Thanks, John and Gay, for sharing with us!

Dear Butler Third Ward Members, Friends and Neighbors:

At times like these you realize just how much it means to have a loving family, caring friends and neighbors, and really how important it is to believe in God, the resurrection, and eternal life. I hope the following words of thanks will in some way express how our family feels.

I express our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation for all the prayers, fasting, and sympathy given in behalf of Peggy and our family.

I thank you very much for the beautiful book, "Leaves of Gold" engraved with our name and signed by eighty-one families. This book will be cherished by our family.

We thank you also for the four porcelain "Treasured Memories"--Bedtime Prayer, Bonnet Days, A Mother's Love, and The First Recital. These will be beautiful keepsakes for my girls.

I thank you for the donation made to the American Heart Association, and for the many, many dinners and food items brought into our home.

Last, and I think the most important is, I truly thank each one of you for being such a great friend to Peggy. Thanks for all your help, kindness, and thoughtfulness given to her. I don't think many days passed by without Peggy expressing to me just how much she liked, loved, or appreciated you members of our ward. I will be eternally grateful to all of you for your friendship and kindness because it meant so very much to Peggy and gave her so much joy and happiness. I am sure those memories will remain with Peggy forever.

With all our love,

Lynn, Karen, Pam, Kim & Brenda Fletcher

A TRIBUTE TO PEGGY FLETCHER

...by Helena Vergensen

I would like to pay tribute to Peggy Fletcher, My Dearest Friend,
And tell of the wonderful things she's done of which there is no end.
There is so much to tell, where should I start?
Please know whatever is said, comes straight from my heart.

She was a kind and loving wife to her husband, Lynn,
Helping him at his work and showing such devotion to him.
Giving him a surprise birthday party to her was so exciting,
The whole family and friends she would be inviting.

Entertainment, games and prizes for everyone she did bring,
She was so tickled about her secret, for he didn't suspect a thing.
She liked to show off the waterfall Lynn had made in their backyard,
And yet she'd always worry about him working too hard.

Going boating and vacationing together seemed so complete,
The closeness of their family just couldn't be beat.
She has the cutest daughters in the whole wide world,
Lots of dresses she has sewn and hair she has curled.

She kept them always looking so clean and neat,
And trained them through her good example to be kind and sweet.
She provided her girls with lessons in piano and dance,
She was always there to encourage and support them at every chance.

Karen is the oldest who, Peggy said, made her feel so proud,
Pam, who has her mother's charm, stands out in the crowd.
Kim has inherited her sparkly personality and friendly smile,
Brenda, with her sweet shyness made having another girl so worthwhile.

Peggy always had time to talk to her many friends for hours on the phone,
With her long cord she still organized and kept a tidy home.
She crocheted booties for new babies and many sweaters she'd knit,
She taught aerobics and worked hard to keep physically fit.

Always volunteering to be a room mother and working in the P.T.A.
She'd sell her handicrafts for the extras she'd buy to give away.
Always striving for perfection with all her might,
She'd unpick and do it over until it was just right.

Even tho' she was busy, when help was needed she just couldn't say "No,"
She'd always be so considerate that it kept her on the go.
Peggy had so many leadership positions, it seemed all the time,
Her ability to accomplish so much seemed so sublime.

She did so many favors, never expecting anything in return.
This Christ-like service from Peggy we should all try to learn.
Whenever you tried to help her, she would have a "Thank you" gift to give,
For Butler 3rd and 6th Ward her best gift of all was the life she did live.

As much as we all loved her, we know Heavenly Father does too,
But we were not prepared for what He already knew.
Her life would now continue in a more holy sphere,
And she will be missed, but we'll hold the memories of her so dear.

Peggy truly accomplished so much while still here on this earth,
And her good example to us has been of great worth.
We didn't want her to go, but realize that this must be,
And we'll strive to live the commandments so we can join her in eternity.

And even now we know she is still paving the way,
Her gift of love and good deeds remind us to never stray.
Peggy Fletcher, we all will miss you and love you ever so much,
But we will patiently look forward to the time when our lives again will touch!
