MESSAGE FROM OUR BISHOPRIC

There is a best-selling book at all the bookstores entitled "All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten." It contains a unique collection of stories and thoughts centered around life and the way we conduct ourselves. Robert Fulghum listed the things he learned in kindergarten.

Share everything. Play fair. Don't hit people. Put things back where you found them. Clean up your own mess. Don't take things that aren't yours. Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody. Wash hands before you eat. Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you. Live a balanced life--learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work every day some. Take a nap every afternoon. When you go out in the world, watch out for traffic, hold hands and stick together. Be aware of wonder.

The list is full of truths that we all know and accept. By using Fulghum's approach, I propose that all we really need to know about living the gospel of Jesus Christ, we learn in Primary...

Say your prayers every day. Love all people. Pay your tithing. Be thankful for your blessings. Attend church. Serve others through action and deed. Don't swear. Read the scriptures. Eat the healthy foods. Do good work. Be honest. Respect church leaders. Go on a mission. Read good books. Be sure your thoughts are pure and clean. Repent. The gospel is true. You are a child of God. He loves you and wants you to succeed. You're here to discover and fulfill your purpose in life.

Life's truths are simple and straightforward. We learn them at a tender and impressionable age. Reminders are always helpful. Be aware of wonder.

DEREK BUTTERS

By the time this newspaper is printed, our family's "WELCOME HOME" banner will have been hung on the front porch. Weeks of planning and preparation will have been completed--days of looking forward to the return of our son and brother, will have passed and our missionary will be home again.

It seems unbelievable that two years have actually passed. We are thrilled for his return to our family, but at the same time, we will miss the Monday letters (Thanks, Derek, for always having that letter in the mailbox for us. They were the best part of the week).

We will miss reading about his love for the mission and all that he was doing in New York. His enthusiasm was contagious. It was fun to read about how hard he worked to find those that were looking for the gospel. He was relieved when the final transfers kept him on Staten Island for the final part of his mission. He had some golden contacts there and he wanted to share as much of his love for the gospel as he could before heading home. He also had a young man planning to be baptized the Saturday before he was to fly home, and he really wanted to be there.

Derek's Mission President wrote to let us know what a great missionary Derek had been. We have to agree with that. Great work, Derek! As Derek would always write when things went well--- "You've got to love it when that happens!"

We have loved having Elder Butters in New York. It has brought love and blessings to our family, and from all that Derek writes, it has been a great blessing in his life--one that he will always remember and be thankful for.

Welcome home, Elder Butters!

KEVIN COPELAND

"The time is really starting to pick up," Kevin writes. "The weeks go by like days, and I've never learned so much in three months.

"We baptized a 25-year-old girl and her three-year-old daughter. She is always smiling. You know she has a great desire when she works until 2 am every Saturday night and then comes to church on time with her two little kids at 8:30 am. Tell me that's not dedication! (Most of the members arrive late--some up to an hour and a half.) She told me the other day 'Thank you for helping me in my life!' That's the best thing you can hear, being a missionary.

"I love this city! It will be so hard to leave. Everyone knows who we are now, and we have so many friends. It's great!!"

Kevin also writes that he is so fortunate to have had such great health. "The other Americans can't believe that I've never been sick. I did get those bugs that burrow holes in your feet. I dug them out and had two huge burrows in my foot. They're pretty common down here, but if you catch them early, they won't cause much trouble. They can be dangerous. I've heard of people losing a toe or two, and they can kill dogs and cats. So my foot was a little sore."

"We've got a lot of good families we're teaching. Right now, I guess we're just planting seeds. Hopefully, some day, they will all accept the gospel."

We are thrilled at how enthusiastic Kevin has gotten about missionary work. We know there is no more happiness on this earth than serving our Heavenly Father and living the life He would have us live.

DAVID CLOWARD

Dave's last letter was interesting. He sent a copy of an article which appeared in the Dutch Ensign. It featured his former companion, Elder Broekzitter, who is Dutch, and had a picture which David had taken of Elder Broekzitter with two little girls and another picture of this elder and David with a man they baptized. Of course, we couldn't read the article, but it was interesting to see.

David is planning to come home around June 1st. He has really enjoyed his calling as a Traveling Assistant and also his training of new missionaries. He feels that many missionaries could be better prepared and counsels his brothers to study the gospel and come to their missions prepared to really serve.

Danny Larisch, who is serving in the mission just north of David's, sent him a present of "Welsh fudge" which was only fudge on the outside.

Dave says his greatest challenge in training others everyday is that he feels a need to always be enthusiastic, a model missionary and not to ever let down.

We know Dave is happy in the work he is doing and we are pleased with his dedication.

KEVIN SEGUIN

Kevin really likes his new area. It is a bit cooler than Cartagena was.

His new companion is Elder Rob Lambert from Bountiful. He was in Kevin's group at the MTC. Kevin said it felt good to talk in English again. His companion for the last 3 1/2 months was a Colombian which meant no English. He said his Spanish was getting better than his English.

So many of the people they have talked to think they have everything and don't need the church, but the ones who are members are very strong. Kevin thinks the people there are a chosen people. It is a lot harder to get into any doors, but he said that's fine. He likes a good challenge.

Kevin's birthday is next month and his only request for a present was a "Salt Lake newspaper." He always liked to read it!

We know all of our missionaries are doing a great job and it is a real challenge for them. We send our love and best wishes to all of them.

MIKE SPENCER

The mail strike that was to last through the month of March is still going strong, so we are only receiving letters from Mike via the Church courier every few weeks.

Mike is in a new area now, a beautiful resort town called LaFalda. It is in the mountains of Cordoba and Mike has fallen in love with it. He said he would like to go back sometime after his mission. Along with a new area, he also had a new companion. His name is Gordon Foote and who is Sharon Cloward's nephew. Small world, isn't it?

Mike was rather sad to leave Bellville, because there were several families that were just about ready for baptism. However, they are teaching two families in LaFalda who are getting ready for baptism. These are both young and receptive families who should be great assets to the church.

Mike said to tell everyone that he is doing great. Good luck to Mike and all the other missionaries in their efforts of doing the Lord's work. We love you.

GARY ALLEN

It hardly seems possible, but I just have two more reports before Gary returns. The work of the Lord is making great strides in South Carolina. The seeds that have been planted are now being harvested.

Bro. and Sis. Holland and their son listened to the elders and were learning the gospel. Sis. Holland had some very serious health problems. Gary and his companion gave her a blessing. She had great faith and the elders felt the Spirit and asked the Lord for the return of her health.

She is now well, and was baptized along with her son. Gary feels sure that her husband will also enter the water. Gary's testimony just continues to grow.

He is very excited about Super Sunday, where every member in the branch and all contacts are personally invited to attend Sacrament Meeting. When people care and share Christ's love with others, great things happen---In Moncks Corner, an inactive family is now 100 percent involved with the gospel. They now have a strong and growing testimony. The missionaries also have found many more people to teach. It works great.

Gary reports the colors of spring are incredible. All the trees and flowers are in bloom. The countryside must be like the Celestial Kingdom. This was his feeling on the return drive from watching all the sessions of conference. He felt spiritually fed and greatly blessed by the natural wonders which surrounded them.

We pray that his last six weeks will be just super!!

ELYSE VANFLEET

Elyse and her companion have set a goal of eight baptisms for the month of April. They feel that one of the best processes to permanently influence some of the investigators is to combine teaching and work.

"Saturday we had the opportunity to help out the Wests. They are redoing everything in their house. We and three of the elders went over and moved furniture, put beds together, and cleaned and organized rooms. It felt so good to be able to help.

"When we left we had family prayer with them, and two of their kids prayed. Their prayers were so special and cute. Kids are so close to our Heavenly Father."

The father of this family was baptized a few weeks ago, and it is now hoped that he can obtain permission to baptize his wife and eight-year-old girl.

TREVIN BEATTIE

One week in March, Trevin wrote, "The results of our missionary work last week were incredible. We gave out 13 Books of Mormon, but out of nine rendezvous we had, only one was home for us to teach!"

Another comment indicates the size of the ward in Forbach..."I was playing the piano for church yesterday (since I play as well as the next missionary) and a member asked me if I could give her piano lessons."

Then in the next letter...

"At church yesterday we had some visitors from Metz that I know, so it was nice to see them again and hear them speak in testimony meeting. One of them also played the piano, which gave me a break and made the singing easier.

ROY SCHULZ

The work in Austria is exciting. The goal to baptize 50 people in the first quarter of the year has been reached, and more people are joining the Church. It is depressing not to be there when the goal for the year of 200 baptisms will be reached.

Roy's mission is coming closer to the end and he loves the work. He wrote, "We had a very busy week. Your prayers are answered. Thank you! Keep up the good work!"

We are working with many foreign people. It is only a little difficult because the people don't speak German too well, so we always need a person to translate. Sometimes it feels like we are playing charades, and sometimes the translator talks up a storm and we get a little frustrated.

One Elder is learning Hungarian now. To work for the Lord is very exciting and rewarding. The Lord showed his love for us many times."

The Church is true. Love you all.

FAMILY-TO-FAMILY BOOK OF MORMON PROGRAM

Some of the families in the ward have received word directly from Book of Mormon recipients.

The Steffensens received a letter from a woman in England who thanked them for giving her a Book of Mormon.

Bro. & Sis. Blackhurst recently received a letter from Gilbert Petramalo, the mission president of Ghana Accra. He was very grateful to them for sending some Books of Mormon to his mission.

Bro. Spencer had occasion to talk with the president of the Argentina Cordoba Mission. He mentioned how much he appreciated the books that were sent to his mission through the Family-to-Family Book of Mormon program.

We do not donate these books with the idea of being thanked for them, but it is exciting to know that our efforts are appreciated.

Today is a good day for you to give a Book of Mormon. Send your donation in the grey envelope, along with a Tithing & Donations slip made out to "Book of Mormon" and give it to a member of the bishopric. You will be glad you did.

SPECIAL THOUGHTS FOR MOTHER'S DAY

The Lord in his great wisdom established the family unit as an eternal entity. The family in this life is the most important place for teaching truth. Bishop H. Burke Peterson in a conference address said:

"Happiness in the life hereafter is geared to our learning and living celestial laws while we are here on the earth. This being so, then our great need is to establish in our homes an atmosphere that will encourage the learning and living of the teachings of the Savior."

The mother's role in this great educational process is paramount. Pres. N. Eldon Tanner discussed the mother's role.

"It is while the child is in the home that he gains from his mother the attitudes, hopes and beliefs that will determine the kind of life he will live, and the contribution he will make to society..."

"And I wish to say without equivocation that a woman will find greater contribution to mankind by being a wise and worthy mother raising good children than she could make in any other vocation."

Motherhood is a sacred responsibility. Be patient, remember the Lord in all things, seek the guidance of the Spirit, and be faithful to your home and your family, and you will be helped in your calling.

"Motherhood is the inscription on the gate through which the spirits pass to enter the realm of mortal men, and it will be woman's password for admittance into the highest realms of glory. The Son of God hallowed and glorified that inscription when he bowed through the gate and called a mortal woman 'Mother.' "

GETTING ACQUAINTED

Young Women

LAURA LAMBERT

Laura Lambert was raised in Sacramento, California. She is the youngest of six children and was spoiled rotten by her parents, brothers and her sister.

Her earliest memories are of long family camping trips. Her hobbies are varied. Her favorite things are music, canoeing, skiing, hiking, knitting, quilting and storytelling.

Laura attended college sporadically at first. She attended a junior college in Sacramento for a year. Then she stopped for a year to decide what to do. She then attended BYU for a year. Still not sure of what to major in (after considering music, theatre, art, geology, nursing and English), she paused to be a tour guide in Washington, D.C. for a year.

When she discovered that there was a degree, that not only encouraged, but required classes in rock climbing, backpacking, and partying, she returned to BYU as a outdoor recreation major.

While at BYU that time, she taught survival, became president of the Recreation Club, and worked as the program director of the outdoor rental shop on campus. She graduated with her bachelor's degree in 1984.

The summer following her graduation Laura worked at Los Angeles Olympic Games as a dispatcher for the security force. After a winter as a ski bum at Alta, she became the recreation director for Highland Cove Golden Living Center.

After two years there, she returned to BYU for her master's degree. She received her MA in 1988, doing her thesis on the history of Alta Ski Resort.

Laura now does the payroll for the Snowbird Ski School. She earns extra money on the side by knitting hats and selling them to a shop at Snowbird for resale. Her dream is to someday have a full outfitting and guide service. She has a list of all the fun things she wants to try in her life and is crossing them off one by one.

Laura plans on summering in Sacramento with her family (for at least a little while) and returning to her job at Snowbird next winter. She is currently looking half-heartedly for a full time "real" job but is in no hurry. Her long-term professional goals include a Ph.D. in recreation and a professorship.

She was recently called as the assistant camp director in our ward.

In Young Women this month, we had fun activities involving hopefully all the girls.

We had four birthdays -- two of our girls, Stephanie Gollaher & Charlotte Glad; and two of our leaders, Donette Woolston & Peggy Hague.

This month the Beehives had fun at the park playing volleyball. Then we had a very special time with their fathers at the Daddy-Daughter Date, at which they planned and cooked the menu, and practiced proper etiquette.

The MIA Maids had a neat surprise party for Stephanie Gollaher who is now a Laurel. We also practiced our sportsmen's skills at ice skating and bowling.

The Laurels & the Priests had an enjoyable time doing their yard clean-up project and after that, they had fun at Bro. Stringham's house.

While together this month, we made Jan McCombs and her new baby girl a beautiful pink baby quilt. We also enjoyed going to home-making night with our mothers where we learned about self-defense. The YW and YM had fun at the Bar-B-Q at Anzak Park.

The Young Women had a very touching experience in opening exercises when we had a testimony meeting. We got to know and love everyone a lot better.

PRIMARY

There have been a few changes in the Primary lately. Sis. Lou Jean Middleton and Bro. and Sis. Stan and Michelle McOmber have been released. We thank them for their help and support, and wish them success in their new callings.

Sisters Velma Glad, Jan McCombs, and Marlene Robbins have been sustained as the new teachers. We welcome them.

The class presentations for April were given by Bro. Phillips' Blazer class and Bro. Clawson's CTR A class. The theme for Sharing Time for April was "I Live In a Beautiful World."

Cub Scouts

Our Ward Pack Meeting was a little different from those in the past.

It was for parents only. We presented our financial program for the years and registered our boys for the coming year.

We want to thank everyone who attended and for the response received. We ended the evening with ice cream sundaes and a better understanding of our financial resources.

Thank you very much.

David and Terry Glad

Sis. Rowe has been teaching the children some new songs to sing to their mothers and grandmothers for the Sunday School program on Mother's Day, May 14.

We congratulate Richelle Gleave, Emily Smith, and Jed Berhold for being baptized and confirmed in April, and Beth Zorad for May.

We would like to welcome two new families to our Primary. They include Adria and Leisl and Patrick Robbins and Josh and Benjamin Pace. Marlene Robbins is a new teacher.

Birthdays for March were Steven Hawkes, Tyler Call, Nathan Cloward, Emily Smith, Allison Phillips, Jed Berhold, Kent Copeland, Amy Paxman, and Cory Clements.

April birthdays included David Hawkes, Richelle Gleave, Joshua Jones, Ashlee Thomas, Ryan Stringham, Suzanne Ostler, Beth Zorad and Michael Terkelson.

Welcome

Welcome to Craig and Linda Pace and their four children. They hope to build a home on the lot just below Grace's home.

NOTICE

Thanks to all those who helped at the "ward beautification" and bank spreading fun. It looks great!!

Brethren, enjoy a Priesthood Restoration Fireside by satellite-- tonight, May 7.

Grant and Naomi Housekeeper have moved to Green River, Utah. They operate the cafe, the Chow Hound. Stop in and visit on the way to Lake Powell.

Clark and Lorraine Housekeeper and daughter Crystal will be living in the Housekeeper home.

GET WELL

Jackie Doty is recovering from a broken ankle. She slipped on some grass. Her concern right now is missing golfing and bowling!

After his injury to his heels, Fred Larisch is progresing ahead of schedule.

Lou Jean Middleton is recovering from whiplash she received from an auto accident. The car was totalled, but we are grateful she was not seriously injured. She said she was wearing her seatbelt.

CONGRATS

Congratulations to Brett Barker who has been called to serve in the Mexico Torreon Mission. His farewell was held on April 30.

Congratulations to Chuck Stubbs who has received his mission call to serve in the Argentina South Mission at Buenos Aires. He will enter the MTC on August 2.

Super congratulations to Kevin Hilyard for earning his Eagle Scout rank. It was presented to him on the evening of April 30.

Scott Rowe has been called by Elder Ivory, regional representative, to serve on the Brighton Seminary Council.

Scott was also elected as a yell leader for the next school year at Brighton.

Kathi Rowe brought home her third consecutive 4.0 grade report. She is being welcomed into the National Junior Honor Society at Butler Middle.

Rosalyn Ostler was honored on April 15 at the Utah State Poetry Society Awards Festival at Ogden. She won 1st place in the most prestigious category of poetry competition, and received two special recognitions for other poems.

Her son, Greg, captured 5th of 110 in competition with an original poem in the Youth Category. His poem was one of four chosen for coming national competition.

Julie Ann Smith, daughter of Pete Smidmore, became the bride of David Lindsay Smith in Thompson, Utah on April 24. Dave is a foreman on the construction of the John Wesley Powell Museum in Green River. The couple will make their home in West Jordan this fall.

Two nieces of the Skidmores are off on missions--one to Vancouver, Canada and the other to Tokyo, Japan.

Son, Kelly, still stomping around in the land of ancestors, has been promoted to senior associate at FG International in Virginia.

Pete, getting ready to be proxy for David Jones (1781), one of Joyce's Maryland ancestors, at the Jordan River Temple finds himself standing in for employee David Jones (1940) at the oil shale site in Colorado. Another employee has requested a copy of the Book of Mormon.

Amelia McCombs, a new arrival, was blessed by her father.

Congratulations to the gang at Butler Middle School who won a Carefree Sugarless Gum wrapper collecting contest sponsored by KCPX Power 99 Radio. They won a contest and a $1,000 for their school. Brandon Woolston, as student body vice president, was instrumental in scheduling the concert.

Congratulations to Jed Berhold, Richelle Gleave and Emily Smith who were baptized and confirmed.

Adrienne and Karidee Thomas have been named to the Principal's Honor Roll at Canyon View.

Scott Paxman performed in a light wave concert.

Amy Young, editor of the Runes Literary-Art Magazine at Brighton High, is one of four writers recognized for poetry and drama writing by the Scholastic Press for their submissions to the nation's largest and most prestigious student writing contest. Of 24,000 students, only 350 are honored.

Jeremy and Suzanne Ostler, along with Beth Zorad and Billy Jean Hawkes participated in a Spring Concert in the Cottonwood Heights Choir at Symphony Hall. Only 12 schools in Utah were represented.

Kristi Rowe, Allison Copeland and Jennifer Weenig received their Young Woman's Medallions. Kristi also received the new Young Women's Faith Recognition Award for Laurels. She is the first in the ward to receive it as a part of the new YW recognition program.

Greg Ostler, Amy Young and Jennie Weenig sang with Brighton's Madrigals in competition in Nashville, Tenn. The a cappella group took 2nd place, and the Mads 5th overall. A super job and welcome home.

BABY NEWS

David and Glade Young were honored with their 27th grandchild, Kayla Christine who weighed 8 lbs. 2 oz. She is the daughter of Jeff & Gay Young. She was born on Easter Sunday.

Frank and Inge Poulson received a new granddaughter, Rebecca Michelle Jones, the daughter of Bruce and Rhonda Jones. She was born April 12, weighing 7 lbs. 10 ozs.

Rudy and Kathy Siebenhaar have a new grandson, Travis. He was born on April 10 to Dennis and Linda Siebenhaar.

Dave and Terry Glad are now grandparents. Claudia and Dave presented them with a granddaughter, Camile Nichole on April 2nd. She weighed 7 lbs 5 oz.

Congratulations to Scott Steffensen and his wife on the arrival of their new daughter, Hanna.

Cory and Lynn Stevenson presented Dan and Wanda Mackintosh with a new granddaughter.

Wayne and Betsy West wish to thank all of you for the figurine and book. Most of all, they thank you for your love and thoughtfulness in the passing of their father on April 15.

Our condolences to Jessie Conover, whose mother died, and to Merilee Stringham, whose father died.

Mike and Carrie Smith's daughters competed in International Ballroom Competition at BYU and got into the semifinals. It was their first time in competition.
